

A PETOSKEY LANDMARK, the old Jarman lime kiln, located on property owned by Dr. and Mrs. Dean C. Burns between Greenwood-rd. and US-131, is to be torn down. Dr. Burns said it is to be razed for safety reasons. It was once operated by the Antrim Iron Works prior to David Jarman. Brush has grown up around the ruins, the old railway tracks and the pond. (NEWS photo by Jim Doherty.)

CRUMBLING OLD KILN to go. Dr. Dean C. Burns announced he was having the old lime kiln razed for safety reasons. It was operated here for many years but Dr. Burns didn't know when it was built. (NEWS photo by Jim Doherty.)